Message from the Mayor .....

Dear Fellow Citizens of Mound,

I have an assortment of topics to update you on this time around.

The Walgreens project continues to make progress along with the small bistro/café along the trail that will be constructed with it. If this project receives final approval, (which is anticipated somewhere around the publishing date of this newsletter) we are hoping that this will act as a bit of a stimulus to expand activity elsewhere in the downtown area. No promises, but we are hopeful.

Mark Hanus

There have been a couple of inquiries for development on the Auditors Road area already. There is nothing formal at all, but I want you all to know that interest has picked up a little bit. For now, we try to nurture and explore these ideas and remain optimistic.

The Schafer Richardson proposal for an affordable housing project where the old clinic was located in Commerce Place has been withdrawn and is no longer on the table. This received very tentative interest by the City Council and there were many concerns expressed by all. The hurdles were significant and, in my opinion, it had only a limited chance of surviving through the approval process. But regardless of your personal opinion of the project, we were obligated to give the property owners a fair and reasonable shot at redeveloping their own property. That reasonable opportunity was provided.

I urge everyone to participate in the Mound Centennial events this year that run from July 13th through July 22nd. The celebration promises to be fun and engaging for both adults and children. With many new events that we have never had before, there is without a doubt something for everybody to enjoy. Whether you actively participate or just attend, being part of this historic centennial celebration will be something to remember for many years to come. Keep an eye on the schedules at www.spiritofthelakes.com.

Respectfully,

Mark Hanus

PROPERTY TAXES

This economy continues to produce anomalies, one of which causes confusion for many residents. People often wonder how their property taxes can go up when their home value is going down. The question highlights an issue that is somewhat unique to Minnesota's property tax system. The City Council and other local taxing bodies control the amount of property tax applied against all parcels in the jurisdiction, but they do not control the property's valuation. The City contracts with the Hennepin County Assessor's Office who monitors and adjusts the market values of properties from year to year.

Property taxes support local school districts, the city, the county, and other special districts including the Minnehaha Creek Watershed District. The city's portion of the property tax bill is about 35%. That amount, $0.35 cents per property tax dollar, pays for police, fire, parks, engineering, streets, planning and zoning, capital expenditures, debt service and general administration. Other services such as water, sanitary sewer, recycling, and storm water management are covered through user fees and are not part of the property tax bill. The taxes levied by the City of Mound went down by $121,000, or 2.24%, from 2011 to 2012. The 2012 levy amount of $5,286,223 equates to $584 per capita, based on the 2010 census of 9,052 residents in Mound.

The City is doing everything it can to keep the City's levy low while meeting the needs of our community, including replacing much of the vital infrastructure and promoting redevelopment. We are proud of our accomplishments these first 100 years and hope to maintain our City as a vibrant, scenic destination for our residents and visitors for years to come.

Celebrate the City of Mound's 100th Birthday at the 2012 Spirit of the Lakes Festival

The communities on the western shores of Lake Minnetonka are proud to hold their annual Spirit of the Lakes Festival, with expanded events and times for 2012!

Primarily situated at Surfside Park & Beach (formerly Mound Bay Park), Spirit of the Lakes Festival is a popular summer tradition organized exclusively “by community, for the community” bringing thousands of residents and families together in celebration of Westonka’s historical, rich heritage.

What makes this year’s Festival special is that on August 23, 2011, Mound’s City Council named Spirit of the Lakes Festival as the official Centennial celebration for the City of Mound. What better way for a city to celebrate its 100th Birthday than with an extended party that includes festive activities and the highly-anticipated fireworks show over Lake Minnetonka.

Plan now to participate in this historic Festival as we celebrate the City of Mound’s 100th Birthday. Please check www.SpiritoftheLakes.com and “like” us on Facebook for up-to-date events, free shuttle bus and weather information as more events are being added. ## Message from the City Manager

Mound's Centennial celebration officially got underway March 27 with the unveiling of the Bruce Miller Mound Centennial commemorative painting. The first copies of the 100-Year Commemorative Book also went on sale for the first time at the reception following the unveiling.

Kandis Hanson

Nationally-acclaimed local artist Bruce Miller created the original oil painting to commemorate the 100-Year Anniversary of Mound's incorporation in 1912. After unveiling the piece, Miller announced that he was donating the original to the City for permanent display and viewing access for all residents. Reproductions of the painting will be available for sale and the piece also serves as the cover of the Commemorative Book and will be printed on Centennial event T-shirts.

The unveiling was held in conjunction with the Mound City Council's regularly scheduled meeting and included remarks by Mayor Mark Hanus, City Manager Kandis Hanson, John Beise who is co-chair of the Centennial Book Committee and Miller himself. The artist explained the symbolism of the painting that depicts Mound's history past and present. The main image of a sailboat on Cook's Bay was inspired by the City's logo and the boat has the word "Mound" on the back and the numbers "M 100" on its sail. The Depot and the playground equipment can be seen on shore and the clock towers of the Transit Center above the trees, but the old Surfside Restaurant is painted in its original location where Chapman Place now stands. The three seagulls in the sky recall the logo of Mound Metalcraft which later became Tonka Toys.

Included in the unveiling and the dedication was a short video, produced by Hanus, showing Miller in the midst of his artistic process as he developed this special painting for Mound. Miller has been a resident of the community for more than 25 years and he and his wife have raised their family here. At one time exclusively a wild-life artist who worked in acrylics, Miller is perhaps best known throughout the country as the 1993 Federal Duck Stamp winner. In the ensuing years Miller has begun painting in oils and expanded his range to include landscape art and other styles.

The 100-Year Mound Commemorative Book also released at the unveiling celebrates the community and its rich past and recent history. Compiled by members of the Westonka Historical Society, area community members and staffers at the City of Mound, the 32-page book is a keepsake for every family to share and cherish as Mound puts a cap on 100 years. The inside cover contains a full run-down of events of the 10-day celebration scheduled for July 13-22. The commemorative book is affordably-priced at $10 and is available at the Mound City Hall and other prominent retail locations.

Summer Storms and Your Safety

While we all enjoy the summer season that offers us so many outdoor recreational opportunities in the Lake Minnetonka area, a few reminders on Summer Storm Safety are in order. The three primary hazards from summer storms are tornados and/or straight line winds, lightning, and flash flooding.

Mound has three outdoor warning sirens that provide warning coverage throughout the City. In the event of pending Severe Weather (tornado activity and/or hurricane force straight line winds) the county warning point will sound our sirens. Radio, TV, and NOAA Weather Radio, will all broadcast information that will be needed to respond safely to any warnings at hand. If you are in an area impacted by severe weather, take shelter immediately. In your home or another structure, the safest area would be on the lowest floor, in an interior, windowless room.

Driving a vehicle in the area of a tornado or hurricane force winds is very hazardous. If you are caught in your vehicle under these conditions, and cannot get to a more suitable shelter, park, secure your seat belts, keep your body below the level of your windows, cover yourself with blankets or other heavy clothing, and protect your head with your arms.

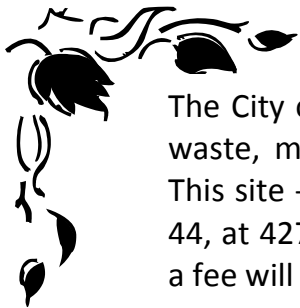

The great risk in being caught outdoors in severe weather is not only from flying debris, but also from lightning. If you are boating or swimming, get to shore IMMEDIATELY. If on a golf course, put your clubs down (which I should have done years ago) and make your way to the nearest shelter. Lightning tends to strike the highest object in the vicinity, so do not stand under a tree, or near a power pole. If you are in an open area, find a ravine or depression for shelter.

Finally, heavy rain can overwhelm storm sewers, drainage ditches, and low areas on roadways. Six inches of flowing water can knock you off your feet, and less than two feet of flowing water can carry a vehicle away. Flash floods are the #1 cause of death from thunderstorms each year. The temptation for kids to play in flooded areas can lead to tragedy. If you come across water rushing over a road, Turn Around.....Don't Drown!!

Deaths and injuries from severe weather causes have declined consistently in recent years. Better technology, warning systems, and public awareness have all been instrumental in improving the margin of safety throughout the country. However, none of this matters unless we individually take responsibility to provide for our safety as soon as we are aware of the pending dangers severe weather will inevitably bring.

Voting Precinct and Polling Place Changes

Following the 2010 census and 2012 redistricting, the City of Mound has changed voting precinct lines and polling place locations. These changes were made to even out our precinct populations, and to have polling places that meet election regulations. The following map shows the new precinct lines. The polling places are as follows:

- Precinct 1 - Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, 5218 Bartlett Boulevard
- Precinct 2 - Bethel United Methodist Church, 2116 Commerce Boulevard
- Precinct 3 - St. John's Lutheran Church, 2451 Fairview Lane
- Precinct 4 - The Gillespie Center, 2590 Commerce Boulevard

Hennepin County will be mailing out postcards to all registered voters, informing them of their correct voting precinct and polling place. Please look for this postcard in your mail, because many Mound voters will have a change in either their precinct designation and/or polling place. For more information and important election dates, go to the City's website at www.cityofmound.com and visit the Elections page.

Hats Off to the American Legion!!

The City would like to extend a big THANK YOU to Kevin Wells and the Mound American Legion Post 398 for their donation of 52 American flags for use on the new light poles lining Shoreline Drive and Commerce Boulevard. In addition to organizing commemorative events and veteran support activities, the American Legion lobbies on behalf of the interests of veterans and service members, including support for veteran pensions and the veterans hospital system.

The American Legion also provides flag education in an effort to build patriotism in our youth and to create an understanding of proper flag display and courtesy. If you have a flag that is worn or faded, the Legion will dispose of it in a proper service of tribute and memory so that it may be honorably retired from life. Contact the Legion at 952-472-9582 for further information.

Be Predictable

Travel in a consistent and predictable manner. Always look behind before changing position on the trail.

Don't Block the Trail

When in a group, avoid using more than half the trail.

Dog Walkers

Keep dogs under control and on a 6' non-retractable leash.

Keep Right

Stay to the right side of the trail as is safe, except when passing another user.

Pass on the Left

Pass others, going in your direction, on their left. Faster traffic must yield to slower and oncoming traffic.

Give Audible Signal

When passing a frequently used warning is... "PASSING ON YOUR LEFT." A clear warning signal may be given by voice, bell or horn.

Helmets

Bicyclists, skaters and skateboarders should always wear a properly fitted helmet.

Stop Means Stop

Trails all the rage - Increased trail popularity leads to greater safety focus

It's hard to imagine a peaceful ride along the Dakota trail turning into conflict, or worse, an accident. But it can happen. That is exactly the reason Three Rivers Parks trail managers are focusing attention on safety, intersection enforcement, and trail etiquette.

"People don't think of regional trails this way, but the truth is they're a lot like our road system in that you have a great variety of users all counting on each other for their safety," says Tom McDowell, Associate Superintendent at Three Rivers Park District. "It's really basic stuff like defensive driving for bikers and walkers being aware of others using the trail and not walking 2 or 3 abreast. It's sharing the trail, staying to the right, being courteous, wearing a helmet and stopping at stop signs. Part of our challenge is that many trail users just want to tune out the world and relax and enjoy a walk or a ride in nature. We want people to be able to do that, just not at the expense of others safety or experience on the trail." McDowell adds that young trail riders should be given some extra room, and dogs must always be on a 6 foot leash and not block the trail.

According to Metro Council statistics, Three Rivers Parks had more than eight million visitors last year. Roughly a third of those park visits were on regional trails. Three Rivers Parks manages and maintains nearly 100 miles of regional trails across suburban Hennepin County and linking into the Minneapolis trail system. One of the most popular trails is the Dakota Rail trail which traverses Mound and numerous other Lake Minnetonka communities.
